

UNIVERSITY OF
SOUTH CAROLINA

Darla Moore School of Business

Non-Tenure Track Professor of International Business

The Sonoco International Business Department, Darla Moore School of Business, University of South Carolina is seeking candidates for one or more non-tenure track positions in international business, to begin either January or August 2016. Consideration will be given to candidates with a doctoral degree in international business or a related field (with appointment as a clinical faculty member (rank open)) and to candidates with both a relevant masters degree and extensive international business experience (with appointment as a lecturer).

Candidates must be able to demonstrate the competencies and expertise required to effectively teach undergraduate and graduate courses in international business. All courses taught will be international in content. Specific courses may be thematic or functional focused, and may also include short-term study abroad programs. Regional or country expertise, and/or industry experience, is highly desirable. While this position focuses primarily on teaching, service and outreach activities will also be an important part of the role. Professional engagement and/or research activities will be required in order to maintain the appropriate faculty qualifications status within the AACSB framework.

The primary vision for the Sonoco International Business Department is to take a leading role in the development of high impact theory and research on global business. The department is unified by its interest in understanding the multinational enterprise and the institutional context within which it is embedded. The department includes faculty with diverse disciplinary backgrounds. The department faculty include: Kendall Roth (Chair), Tatiana Kostova, Chuck Kwok, Hildy Teegen, Rob Rolfe, Gerald McDermott, Omrane Guedhami, Andrew Spicer, Nancy Buchan, Sali Li, Lite Nartey, Michael Murphree, Ken Erickson, Alice Leri, Frank Rydzewski, and Dan Ostergaard.

The Department offers an undergraduate international business major that has been ranked #1 for 17 consecutive years, and collaborative undergraduate international programs with Chinese University of Hong Kong, Universidad de Chile (FEN), Paris Dauphine University, American University in Cairo, and an undergraduate education alliance with ESSEC, University of Mannheim, and FGV-EBAPE. Our flagship International MBA has been ranked in the top 1 or 2 international business programs in the country in the last 25 years. A recently introduced Master in International Business program offers dual degrees with other prominent universities including Bocconi (Italy), ESCP-Paris (France), University of Mannheim (Germany), Shanghai Jiao Tong (China), Higher School of Economics (Russia), and Koc University (Turkey).

The University of South Carolina does not discriminate in educational or employment opportunities or decisions for qualified persons on the basis of race, color, religion, sex, national origin, age, disability, sexual orientation or veteran status. Women and minorities are encouraged to apply. See our website: <http://www.moore.sc.edu/careers.aspx> for information regarding this and other positions.

Please send/e-mail a cover letter, CV, teaching statement, and the names of three references by October 1 to: Beth Busby, Sonoco International Business Department, Darla Moore School of Business, University of South Carolina, Columbia, SC 29208 (beth.busby@moore.sc.edu).
