

Introduction

Bulgaria is located in Southern Europe, situated on the eastern Balkan Peninsula. It is a mostly mountainous country surrounded by Greece, Macedonia, Romania, Serbia, and the Black Sea. Bulgaria has strategic access to the Turkish Straits and controls key land routes to Europe and to the Middle East. The government system is a parliamentary republic; the chief of state is the president, and the head of government is the prime minister. Bulgaria has transitioned to a market economic system in which the prices of goods and services are determined in a free price system. Bulgaria is a member of the European Union (EU).

Risk Assessment (Provided by Coface)

Country rating: B - Political and economic uncertainties and an occasionally difficult business environment can affect corporate payment behavior. Corporate default probability is appreciable.

Business Climate rating: A3 - The business environment is relatively good. Although not always available, corporate financial information is usually reliable. Debt collection and the institutional framework may have some shortcomings. Intercompany transactions may run into occasional difficulties in the otherwise secure environments rated A3.

Strengths

- Diversified productive base (Bulgaria is a main producer and exporter of cereal and mostly independent of food imports from abroad)
- Low public debt
- Tourism potential
- Low production costs and good price competitiveness
- Monetary stability, the Bulgarian Lev is in a peg with the Euro

Weaknesses

- Corruption and organized crime (No. 78 in the Corruption Perception Index 2021, vs. No. 69 in 2020, making it, with Hungary, the most corrupt country in the EU)
- Inefficient public services and the judicial system (influenced from the business community)
- Fragmented political landscape makes the founding of a stable government complicated
- Lack of skilled labor
- Declining and relatively poor population (GDP per capita = 24% of the EU average in 2021, i.e., the lowest in the EU)
- Strong informal economy
