

Introduction

Russia is a country located in northern Eurasia bordering the Arctic Ocean between Europe and the North Pacific Ocean. Neighboring countries include Azerbaijan, Belarus, China, Estonia, Finland, Georgia, Kazakhstan, North Korea, Latvia, Lithuania, Mongolia, Norway, Poland, and Ukraine. The geography is diverse and includes vast forests and tundra in Siberia and mountains along the southern borders. The government system is a federation; the chief of state is the president, and the head of government is the premier. Russia has transitioned from a centrally-planned economy to a more market-based economy in which many state-controlled firms have been privatized and sectors of the economy are liberalized. Russia is a member of the Asia-Pacific Economic Cooperation (APEC) and the Eurasian Economic Union (EAEU).

Risk Assessment (Provided by Coface)

Country rating: D - A high-risk political and economic situation and an often very difficult business environment can have a very significant impact on corporate payment behavior. Corporate default probability is very high.

Business Climate rating: B - The business environment is mediocre. The availability and the reliability of corporate financial information vary widely. Debt collection can sometimes be difficult. The institutional framework has a few troublesome weaknesses. Intercompany transactions run appreciable risks in the unstable, largely inefficient environments rated B.

Strengths

- Abundant natural resources (oil, gas, wood, cereals, diamond, potash (used in the production process of fertilisers) and metals)
- Size of its market and skilled labour force
- Low debt level, however, macroeconomic stability is expected to deteriorate due to sanctions
- Digitalisation and innovation capacity
- Vastness of the territory that borders Europe and China
- Sovereign wealth fund

Weaknesses

- Harsh and numerous sanctions against the country after its invasion of Ukraine
- Dependence on hydrocarbon prices
- Declining demographics
- No trade agreements beyond neighbouring countries
- Dependence on foreign technology
- Weak infrastructure, aggravated by lack of public investment, which is especially apparent outside main towns
- Heavy social security contributions (30% of salaries) which favours informality
- Institutional and governance weaknesses (insolvency treatment, property rights, corruption), weak investment climate
